DRT Alamo Closing Ceremony

After 110 years, this is the last day of The Daughters as caretakers of The Alamo,

“The Alamo is not ancient history. It is no more ancient than love is an old story, for nothing is ancient and our most visible activities occurred here at the Shrine.

In response to Clara Driscoll, Adina de Zavalla, and other women who called for the rescue of the neglected-decayed site of the Dear God, My bones lay here in peace at The Alamo ,I courageously fought against a Dictator, I died for Freedom and Liberty in my new homelan , My courage in battle has been told these many years by The Daughters. I lay peacefully here knowing my sacrifice was not in vain. My Prayer to you today, Dear God, is for Freedom and Liberty to be forever in Texas my homeland.

Alamo into a tourist site and also introduced Republic of Texas history to millions of school children and international visitors .While at the same time supporting preservation efforts of this historic structure. The Daughters understand politicians come and go, political regimes come and go, The Daughters will remain.. (excerpts from Jaime Bare)

Our Alamo Legacy will live on.

The Daughters have learned the lesson of The Alamo" to carry on loyally and unafraid, never surrendering even though she must ask to have her cot lifted across the line.

Since The Daughters will not physically be saying our daily Morning Prayers with our Defenders –We -offer them now. The prayers were offered in Danish, German, Spanish, and English. Thanks to Sue Brannon, Steve Lindley-Bexar Bagpipers, Tom Green Texas Army Soldiers, Carolyn Raney, Esther Silva. Alamo Ranger Chief Tom Hyer, Melinda Tomerlin and all DRT Members.
